Privacy Statement

The Privacy Act 1993 requires us to tell you why we collect the information and what we will do with it.

In this form Veterans' Affairs seeks the evidence and information it needs to assess the eligibility of a deceased veteran or a deceased spouse or partner to a plaque or headstone where the deceased is to be interred in a services cemetery. If you do not provide all the information we ask for, your application may not be able to be processed and may be returned to you.

Why we collect information

The information we collect about you will be held by Veterans' Affairs, which is a unit of the New Zealand Defence Force. We use this information for the purpose of:

- Confirming eligible service
- Administering claims for plaques or headstones
- Enabling a comprehensive claims database to be maintained
- To provide advice to the Minister on the provision of plaques and headstones.

We only collect information needed to manage the provision of plaques and headstones.

Using and sharing personal information

The information we collect about you and the deceased veteran and/or deceased spouse or partner can be via various channels such as email, telephone and face to face, and in various formats such as letters, forms and electronic file notes.

Veterans' Affairs uses personal information provided only for the purposes consistent with the reason it was obtained and will not share it with other parties unless there is a legal authority to do so.

You have the right to access and correct your personal information

You may access personal information that we hold about you. You can ask us to correct errors contained in the information we have about you.

You can contact us at anytime if you have concerns regarding what information about you we are collecting and how it is or may be used.

Please retain this Privacy Statement for your information and records.
